VIRGINIA INDIGENT DEFENSE COMMISSION

MISSION STATEMENT

Dedicated to protecting and defending the rights and dignity of our clients through zealous, compassionate, high quality legal advocacy.

The Virginia Indigent Defense Commission (VIDC), in conjunction with court-appointed private attorneys, provides legal representation for indigent people accused of crimes for which the possible punishment is incarceration or death.<sup>1</sup>

This year was unprecedented for the VIDC in many ways. The year started with a campaign to educate lawmakers about the agency, its mission, and needs. The primary focus was on attorney staffing and workloads. After almost four years of careful analysis of attorney workloads it was determined that the VIDC needed 59 new attorney positions to be spread among the 25 Public Defender field offices. Body worn cameras and other technological evidence, needs of mentally ill clients, Commonwealth Attorney staffing, travel and turnover were significant drivers of workload. VIDC administrative staff and Public Defender leaders across the Commonwealth met with lawmakers to explain the agency's needs. A request was submitted to the Governor for inclusion in the 2021-2022 budget for 59 new attorney positions, the first new attorney positions in over a decade. The Governor did include those positions in addition to the first new Public Defender office since 2005. These positions and the new office were fully supported by the General Assembly and were approved in both the final Senate and House Budgets. Sadly, the COVID-19 pandemic resulted in the new positions being unallotted. The acute need for greater staffing remains and the agency continues to engage both the Governor's office and the General Assembly in the hopes that some of the new positions could be reallocated.

The new Public Defender Office remained in the 2021 budget. The Prince William Public Defender Office will serve Prince William County, Manassas, and Manassas Park. This was the result of significant work by local grassroots organizations and the urging of lawmakers serving the area.

This year the VIDC welcomed three new Chief Public Defenders. Tracey Lenox was selected to be the first Public Defender in the newly establish Prince William office. Tracey brings decades of criminal defense and community engagement experience.

In Alexandria, Paul Pepper replaced Melinda Douglas upon her retirement. Melinda served the VIDC for over 30 years. She founded the Alexandria Office and built it into the highly regarded institution it is today. Mr. Pepper was the long serving Deputy Public Defender.

Aaron Boone became the new Public Defender in Lynchburg. Mr. Boone was the long serving Deputy in Lynchburg. Both Mr. Pepper and Mr. Boone bring a wealth of trial, supervising and training experience.

Community and policy engagement continued in 2020. In addition to the tens of thousands of cases handled every year across the Commonwealth by the Public Defender offices, the Executive Director, Deputy Director, and many Public Defenders serve on various boards, commissions, committees, and other groups working toward improving the criminal justice system both statewide and in their communities. The VIDC appreciates the opportunity to engage with other stakeholders to ensure that the unique challenges facing indigent defendants in the Commonwealth are not overlooked.

A. VIRGINIA CODE § 19.2-163.01 - STATUTORY MANDATES

The sections of the Code of Virginia governing the VIDC include several statutory mandates most of which concern the duty to oversee court-appointed private attorneys. A summary of the recent actions taken and the mandate requiring such action follows.

1. VIRGINIA CODE § 19.2-163.01\(A\)\(1\) - Publicize and enforce the qualification standards for attorneys seeking eligibility to serve as court-appointed counsel for indigent defendants.

The initial qualification requirements as well as the requalification requirements for attorneys seeking to represent indigent clients accused in criminal cases are enumerated in Virginia Code §19.2-163.03. A list of the qualification requirements can be found on the VIDC website at www.vadefenders.org. Applications for initial certification and re-certification are also available on the website. The Certification and Compliance Attorney or the Certification and Compliance Assistant receive applications for certification and re-certification for review and determine whether the qualification or requalification requirements have been met.

2. VIRGINIA CODE § 19.2-163.01\(A\)\(2\) - Develop initial training courses for attorneys who wish to begin serving as court-appointed counsel, and to review and certify legal education courses that satisfy the continuing requirements for attorneys to maintain their eligibility for receiving court appointments.

The VIDC continues to offer live Initial Certification training for attorneys wanting to do court-appointed indigent criminal defense work. This training is offered three times a year. In FY2020 we held Initial Certification training in August, November, and March. We had 93 attendees at these trainings. This training is staffed with seasoned public defenders and other VIDC resource attorneys, including our Chief Appellate Counsel, Immigration Attorney, and Certification Attorney. In addition to content updates and improvements, valuable practice tips are provided throughout the program. This year all the materials were carefully reviewed by multiple experienced attorneys both to ensure they were up-to-date and always with an eye for improvement. The VIDC attorney resource website and other free resources are highlighted for the attendees. Finally, the live format allows participants to ask questions and the faculty are available to provide answers and support to the attendees. In addition to the resource manual, this training consists of six hours of specialized criminal defense instruction, four additional hours of juvenile defense instruction and two hours of immigration training over a two-day period.

The VIDC continues to provide quality training, free of charge, to the private court-appointed attorneys. All VIDC trainings are MCLE (Mandatory Continuing Legal Education) approved by the Virginia State Bar. This year we offered over 89 hours of CLE to over 1,400 private court-appointed attorneys across the state. Much of this (35 hours) came in numerous webinars developed after in-person training became impossible as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic.

In July of 2019 we hosted Initial Capital Habeas Certification. This training was initially hosted in 2015, and at that time the Capital Qualification Standards Committee decided that all attorneys would “sunset” off this list every four years. This meant that every attorney on this list needed to either attend Initial Capital Habeas Certification or some other qualifying capital-specific training and complete a Sunset Application detailing their recent, relevant experience.

Furthering the goal of providing hands-on training, the VIDC, led by Chief Appellate Counsel, Catherine French Zagurskie, continued to partner with Judges from the Court of Appeals for our 6-hour Annual Introduction to Indigent Defense Appeals training on July 19, 2019. There were 52 court-appointed attorneys in attendance at this training.

All VIDC sponsored trainings are eligible to be used by attorneys to maintain their certification status for court appointments. Additionally, the VIDC reviews and approves legal education courses provided by other organizations to determine whether the courses satisfy the requirements for attorneys to maintain their eligibility for court appointments. A current list of Commission and MCLE-approved courses is provided on the VIDC website at <http://www.vadefenders.org/recertification/> and is updated as new courses are approved.

By statute, attorneys maintain their eligibility for court appointments for a period of two years from the date of their initial certification. Prior to the expiration of each two-year period, attorneys receive multiple expiration date notifications via e-mail along with instructions on where to find information about re-certification. Attorneys wishing to maintain certification for court-appointed work are required to complete the one-page re-certification form. Attorneys must include on the form the information verifying their completion of the statutorily required number of Commission and MCLE-approved continuing legal education credits.

- 3. VIRGINIA CODE § 19.2-163.01(A)(3) - Maintain a list of attorneys admitted to practice law in Virginia who are qualified to serve as court-appointed counsel for indigent defendants based upon the official standards. Disseminate the list by July 1 of each year and updates throughout the year to the Office of the Executive Secretary of the Supreme Court for distribution to the courts.

ACeS (Attorney Certification System) is an online system that allows attorneys to apply, renew and modify their certification status via the VIDC website. ACeS continually updates the certified counsel list located on the VIDC website and is accessible by court personnel to retrieve the names of certified attorneys by case type and judicial circuit/district.

As of July 25, 2020, the number of certified attorneys totaled 1,899 and the total attorneys certified by case type were as follows: (NOTE: An attorney may be certified for more than one case type.)

| Case Type                  | Number of Certified Attorneys 7/2020 | Number of Certified Attorneys 7/2019 | Annual Change % |

| Felony                     | 1578                                 | 1695                                 | -7              |
| Juvenile                   | 847                                  | 939                                  | -10             |
| Misdemeanor                | 1794                                 | 1949                                 | -8              |

A list is sent to the Office of the Executive Secretary every four months advising of attorneys who have not been re-certified or who have been removed from the certified counsel list for other reasons. The most recent list of ineligible attorneys was provided on June 1, 2020.

4. VIRGINIA CODE § 19.2-163.01(A)(4) - Establish official standards of practice for court-appointed counsel and public defenders to follow in representing their clients and guidelines for the removal of an attorney from the official list. Notify the Office of the Executive Secretary of the Supreme Court of any attorney whose name has been removed from the list.

The Standards of Practice for Indigent Defense Counsel in non-capital cases are outlined on the VIDC website. The Standards of Practice complaint process and the complaint form are also located on the website. The Standards of Practice are highlighted in the live certification training and beginning in June 2018 the complete Standards of Practice were included in the manual provided to every attendee.

Previously implemented efforts to raise awareness of the Standards of Practice and the enforcement thereof have continued. Currently, VIDC training programs incorporate the Standards of Practice whenever applicable.

5. VIRGINIA CODE § 19.2-163.01(A)(5) - Develop initial training courses for public defenders and to review and certify legal education courses that satisfy the continuing requirements for public defenders to maintain their eligibility.

All public defenders must receive the same certification training as any attorney seeking to serve as court-appointed counsel. In keeping with the revised Standards of Practice, all public defenders must also complete a three-hour training on defending non-citizens. All public defenders serving as their office's appellate supervisor must attend a specialized appellate training and all public defenders must complete a two-part online appellate training once hired and before handling their first appeal. Finally, every public defender must attend the annual conference.

All newly hired attorneys must attend an intensive week-long "New Public Defender Boot Camp". This training emphasizes trial skills and addresses the rewards and challenges of public defense with the goal of developing a client-centered practice. The program remains staffed by experienced public defender leaders as well as Senior Trial Attorneys who specialize in training. The "Boot Camp" program is one part of an overall strategy to recruit, train, and retain quality attorneys who want to serve as public defenders.

The 2019 Annual Public Defender Conference was held October 10-11, 2019 in Williamsburg, Virginia. The annual conference provides all public defenders with the opportunity to earn half of the required continuing legal education credit and maintain eligibility. The VIDC strives to provide a wide range of topics using experienced attorneys from across the Commonwealth as well as noted national experts. The conference provides specific ethics, appellate, and juvenile training.

The 2020 annual conference was scheduled to be held in Newport News in October, but was ultimately canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic. In its place, the training team quickly pivoted and scheduled sixteen webinars providing approximately twenty hours of continuing legal education. The webcast series started in May when many courts had slowed down and will continue into the Fall. As a result of the new format, VIDC was able to make these trainings available for free to all certified court-appointed attorneys throughout Virginia.

6. VIRGINIA CODE § 19.2-163.01(A)(6) - Periodically review and report to the Virginia State Crime Commission, the House and the Senate Committees for Courts of Justice, the House Committee on Appropriations, and the Senate Committee on Finance on the caseload handled by each public defender office.

The VIDC counts cases by the number of individual clients represented, rather than by the number of charges defended. Many cases involve more than one charge. (See Appendix A, VIDC FY20 Caseload and Charge Data). These totals include appeals to both the Court of Appeals of Virginia and Supreme Court of Virginia. This year the VIDC saw a dramatic drop in caseloads from the end of March through the end of June. In previous years VIDC averaged over 7,000 new cases a month. Between April and June that dropped to approximately 3,000 per month. July case load data suggest that we are rapidly returning to pre COVID-19 caseload levels.

7. VIRGINIA CODE § 19.2-163.01(B) - Commission shall adopt Rules and Procedures for the conduct of its business.

The VIDC adopted its policies and procedures in November 2006. The policies and procedures are reviewed and updated as necessary, but no less than annually. This year the Commission voted on a new remote access policy as well as formalizing the recognition leave policy. The remote access move was fortunate in that it became pivotal in the ability to respond quickly to the COVID-19 crisis. The policies are accessible electronically to all employees via the VIDC intranet and MOAT, the IT security training program. All employees must acknowledge receipt of the Policies as part of the annual IT security training.

8. VIRGINIA CODE § 19.2-163.01(A)(14) - Report annually on or before October 1 to the Virginia State Crime Commission, the House and Senate Committees for Courts of Justice, the House Committee on Appropriations, and the Senate Committee on Finance on the state of indigent criminal defense in the Commonwealth, including Virginia's ranking amongst the 50 states in terms of pay allowed for court-appointed counsel appointed pursuant to §19.2-159 or subdivision B2 of §16.1-266.

A 2005 ABA report, Rates of Compensation Paid to Court-Appointed Counsel in Non-Capital Felony Cases at Trial: A State-by-State Overview, noted that Virginia's caps on court-appointed compensation placed its fees among the lowest in the nation.<sup>2</sup>

This report, specifically the ranking, sparked debate in Virginia, the result of which was an added requirement on the VIDC to report on Virginia's ranking among the fifty states for compensation of court-appointed counsel.

State-to-state comparisons are difficult because the structure and funding of indigent defense systems vary nationwide. Pursuant to Va. Code § 19.2-163, an attorney appointed to represent an indigent defendant in Virginia is compensated at an hourly rate set by the Supreme Court. The total amount or cap to be paid is set by statute and may not exceed $120.00 for a misdemeanor in general district court, $1,235.00 for a felony charge where the maximum period of confinement is more than 20 years, and $445.00 for any other felony in circuit court. Fee cap waivers are available up to an additional $120 for misdemeanors or juvenile cases in the district court (unless the juvenile case is a class 2 felony, then the waiver amount could equal up to an additional $650). Felony charges with a penalty of 20 years or more can receive an additional waiver of up to $850. Other felony charges may receive an additional waiver of up to $155. With approval of the judge, Virginia also allows for a second level waiver in certain cases. These caps, even with the initial waiver, remain some of the lowest in the nation. For a comparative look at the states see (Appendix B, State Comparisons Chart).

Compensation for court appointed counsel in Virginia on appeal is governed by Virginia Code §19.2-326 which provides in part:

In felony or misdemeanor case...the court which an appeal is taken shall order the payment of such attorneys' fees in an amount not less than $300, cost or necessary expenses of such attorneys in an amount deemed reasonable by the court, by the Commonwealth out the appropriation for criminal charges. If the conviction is upheld on appeal, the attorney's fees, cost and necessary expenses of such attorney paid by the Commonwealth under provision hereof shall be assessed against the defendant.

According to the Supreme Court, during the writ stage each appeal is looked at on its own basis. Where there is a dismissal based on a procedural default the attorney receives nothing. Otherwise, generally, there is a minimum payment of $400 and maximum of $1200. In the case of a guilty plea, Alford plea, Anders petition, or probation violations there is a flat rate of $400, whether or not there is oral argument. For other types of writ cases, there is a base rate of about $400, where there is no oral argument. The attorney will receive $400 if the petition is generally the same as the petition filed in the Court of Appeals. If there is a new petition, where the attorney substantively addresses the Court of Appeals in the argument sections, there will be a bump of, generally, $100. If it is a complicated case, like a capital non-death or a case with voluminous transcripts, additional money may be considered. If there is an oral argument, whether before the panel of Justices or Chief Staff Attorney, there is another bump of, generally, $100. But, to get the $100, it has to be more than just showing up for the argument and relying on brief. There are slight adjustments, downward, if the case is only a misdemeanor. What results in the difference between the range of $400 and $1200 is type of appeal; substantive oral argument; and whether there is a "new" petition in the Supreme Court. All this is only for the writ stage not for merit cases in the Supreme Court of Virginia.

In the Virginia Court of Appeals there is a clear fee structure as follows:

For writ stage if the case only involves misdemeanors the compensation is $300 and if the appeal involves felony, $400 and an extra $100 if there is an oral argument. For the merit stage the total amounts which include writ and merit stages are as follows: If appeal only involves misdemeanors the compensation is $625 and $725 if the appeal involves a felony. If a rehearing en banc is granted the attorney is entitled to an extra $200.
